Properly maintained coatings are necessary to protect the structures and equipment in industrial and municipal facilities. Facility owners should understand coating maintenance practices to manage the cost of protecting their facilities.

This presentation will walk through three steps of coating maintenance.

- Coating condition assessment and evaluation
- Maintenance coating alternatives: advantages and disadvantages
- Practical specification writing based on lessons learned

We have assembled a team of specialists: inspector, applicator, manufacturer, and engineer to discuss each of topics.

- Ed Darrimon, President, Bay Area Coatings Co.
- Charles Del Monte, President, Redwood Painting Co.
- Ted Moore, Corrosion Specialist, Sherwin William Co.
- Mike Dadik, Principal Structural Engineer, Carollo Engineers.

Bring your questions! This interactive presentation will help decision makers understand coating deterioration and methods used to assess coating condition. We will discuss the advantages and disadvantages of different alternatives. The presentation will conclude with practical approaches to specification writing.
